

ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 10.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE keeps its indignation warm, and never allows to pass unimproved an opportunity to denounce President Cleveland. Its last leader is unusually severe as well as unusually long.— Richmond Dispatch.

The GAZETTE always says what it thinks, utterly irre-pective of what other people think, be they few or many, and as it never speaks without thinking twice it is usually correct, and always speaks the same way. If some of its contemporaries would follow its wise example in this respect their opinions would be more effective. As regards length, the Disputch is old enough to know that the strength of newspaper articles lies the Isthmus of Darien, was the veriest bosh, but is only surprising from the fact that it was made with the intention of influencing House to-day Mr. Libbey presented the pemen generally supposed to be as wise as United States Senators to support a scheme for an inter-oceanic ship railroad through foreign territory. This country has about as much as it can well attend to within its own limits, and the less interference it attempts with affairs outside those limits the

THE PROCEEDINGS of the United States House of Representatives yesterday, when the Senate fortifications and ordnance bills were presented to it prove that the democrats in that body are not to be caught napping as easily as those of the Senate were three or four days ago, and induce the hope that they will not vote away immense sums of money on unnecessary coast defenses and heavy guns, as part of a republican scheme to deplete the Treasury and thereby make a plausible excuse for the continuance of the existing protective tariil, by which the exorbitant profits of a few rich Northern manufacturers may be prolouged.

"The GAZETTE, of Alexandria, has got the range of the white house and is keeping up as lively a bombardment as that to which the British navy treated the Alexandria, Egypt, a few years ago."-Wash.

The GAZETTE shoots folly as it flies, whether it proceed from the White House or the Capitol, or from democratic or republican sources; and if the result of the future be in accordance with the experience of the past, a short time will suffice to show that the GAZETTE is only in advance of its REPRESENTATIVE COX, of North Carolina, is a real Bourbon, so far as relates to the fact of being unable to learn any thing is concerned. Though he was overwhelmingly defeated for renomination last fall because of his support of the civil service reform sham, be is still so enamored of that humbug that he wants the pay of the members of the civil service commission increased from $3,500 to $5,000 a year. It is hoped the other democrats in Congress may not be so impervious to object lessons as Mr. Cox.

IT IS NOW said that Attorney General Garland approved the inter-state commerce bill before the President signed it. It was only a few years ago, when Mr. Garland was a Senator, that he opposed the bill because he thought it was unconstitutional. It is always, and by no means unnaturally, the subject of adverse criticism when a man of mature years changes his opinions, and especially so when it is possible for him to recelve any kind of benefit from such a change.

As WELL might the public demand the privileges of a private club or of a co-operative store, as those of a telephone system the close of the current week. Its friends supported by the annual subscription of those for whose use the system was estab-

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexa. GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10, 1887. Col. Mosby has just arrived here from Milwaukee, where he received distinguished attention, and where a crowded audience listened to his lecture. On his return, when passing through Kentucky, his valise, containing his broad cloth lecture suit, the manuscript copy of his lecture, and every thing else be bad with him except what was on his person, was stolen from the seat in front of him while he was asleep. He mentioned his loss to Senator Beck here this morning, telling him he had supposed that his baggage at least would be safe in passing through Kentucky; but the Senator on the instant replied that the theft had been committed in the country through which John Morgan made his raid, and that that section had never recovered from the demoralization produced by that raid. The Colonel has in his possession letters and other documents which he intends to include in an article he is now preparing for the Century magazine that will not only completely re-General Longstreet's recent assertion that General Lee was to blame for the reverse at Gettysburg, but prove that General Longstreet himself was the main cause of that reverse.

friends became alarmed lest he might disbonor himself while under the influence of his besetting habit. They conferred about it with Senator Edmunds, Senator Stanford and others. The latter extended Mr. Riddleberger an invitation to go with his wife to California, and thus for a time he was taken away from the temptations that surrounded him in Washington. If he seriously contemplates resigning it may be set down as likely that an ambitious democrat of Virginia is once more holding out a money inducement to him."

The above article from the New York Tribune being shown to Senator Riddleber-ger yesterday morning he denied emphatically the truth of it in whole and in part, and said in terms more forcible than elegant that he had never made any such statement as the one referred to, that no body had ever offered him fifty thousand dollars or any other sum to resign, and there was any democrat in Virginia who had that sum who would be willing to give it for his place.

Mr. Crain, the delegate from Utab, says the report that a rich Mormon lobby is at work here to prevent the passage of the anti-Mormon bill, is entirely incorrect. It is said at the Capitol that Senator Edmunds has no doubt that the conference committee which now has that bill in charge will come to a satisfactory agreement at its meeting tomorrow, and would have done so before but for the absence of Mr. Collins, one of the future, advantage to him.

In the House yesterday Mr. Barbour presented the petition of Thomas P. Nalle, of Culpeper county, Va., for the removal of his political disabilities. Mr. Tucker presented a similar one from Charles H. Lee, of Laudoun county, in the same State. Mr. Crox. ton presented the petition of J. H M. Wheallon, of Accomac county, that his claim be referred to the court of claims. In the county, Va., for the passage of the Blair educational bill.

Major Daniel doesn't like Mr. Speaker Carlisle's refusal to recognize any one last Monday to move a consideration of the re moval of the tobacco tax; neither does Mr. Randall, and neither of them hesitates to say so publicly and in plain terms. But a large majority of the House say Mr. Carlisle had an indisputable right to do just as he did, and it is probable a majority would have voted against the consideration of the bill referred to if any one had been recognized to move that it be considered.

The Senate to-day received a partisan protest from the republican minority in the Indiana legislature against the seating of Mr. Turpie, democratic Senator elect from

It is said to-day in and about the room of the House appropriations committee that that committee will report bills for both fortifications and ordnance, but that the amounts will not be more than half, and probably not that much, the sums appropriated by the Senate bills.

Representative Tucker, of Virginia, has left for Natchez, Mississippi, to attend the funeral of his daughter, Mrs. Shields, who died there yesterday. She was thrown from her carriage, at her home, in Louisiana, about a month ago, and was taken to Natchez for surgical treatment. Mr. Tucker's absence will not necessarily delay action on the anti-Mormon bill by the conference committee to morrow, as Mr. Hammond, of Georgia, has been appointed a member of that committee in his place.

The whole of yesterday's session of the Senate was devoted to eulogies of Senator Logan. The whole of next Wednesday in House will be devoted to the same purpose. A delegation of the city council and commercial exchange, of Petersburg, called upon Gen. Mahone at the Capitol to-day, and affiliation with extremes, we invoke the asurged him to advocate an increased appropriation for the improvement of the Appomatter River. The General promised to and ask that such unite with us and make do what he could. Among the delegates a common cause against a common enemy.' were Capt. Goodwyn, and Messrs. Waite, Newcomb and Bishop.

The Court of Claims has allowed the claim of John Kelly, of Sweet Chalybeate Springs, Alleghany county, Va. for $6,572 for supplies taken from him during the war by U. S. troops.

In the Senate to day General Mahone proposed two amendments to the river and harbor bill, one appropriating $20,000 for the construction of a concrete dike in Naus emond river, and the other appropriating $10,000 to improve Roanoke river between Clarksville, Va., and Weldon, N. C.

The conviction of West, the negro chief of division of the Interior Department, under a democratic administration, who knocked down and attempted to outrage a white lady clerk under him, meets with almost unanimous approval here. The general impression is that the application for a new trial will be denied.

The bill limiting the hours during which letter carriers shall be on duty will, it is understood, be considered in the House before say they have made a canvass of the House and that the bill will pass. The pay of letter carriers ranges from four hundred to one thousand dollars a year, according to efficiency in length of service.

It is rumored to-day that the President will veto the bill generally known as the "pauper" pension bill. Should he do so it will go no little way toward offsetting the opposition to him caused by his undemocrate civil service policy.

Judge Atkins, of the Hustings Court of Richmond, yesterday issued a rule against Mr. W. L. Royall, returnable February 14, to show cause why he should not be fined and attached for contempt in bringing suits against members of the grand jury that indieted him for barratry. In order to make a test case Mr. Royall was fined $50 by a jury in the Hustings Court for practicing law without a license. In the event the United States Supreme Court decides the Jones coupon license case appealed from Judge Bond it is desired to have a case in which the direct question whether the liceuse tax stands upon the same footing with other taxes, so far as receipt therefor of coupons was concerned. Mr. Royali's case makes up such an issue and will at once be carried to the court of last resort.

The State Farmers' Assembly. The platform adopted by the Farmers'

Assembly in session in Richmond yesterday denounces all legis lation which compels one class of people to buy of another class by prohibiting the importation of foreign goods demands that the Legislature shall pass such laws as will prohibit discrimination by railroads between localities and individuals, and require the publication of their tariff of of needed relief by adequate penalties and agencies. It indorses the interstate commerce bill as a step in the right direction; calls upon the State Legislature to be vigilant in restricting all charters to be hereafsystem now practiced by certain railroads of buying up, so as to monopolize, the coal and others mineral lands of the country to be pregnant with the greatest evils; calls upon Virginia Representatives in Congress to urge a repeal of the tax on tobacco and fruit brandles; declares the determination of the members of the convention to support no man who will not aid them honestly in obtaining relief from the grievances complained of, and recommends that the agriculturists of the State support no one for the State or national legislatures who is not in full sympathy with their interest. The last section of the platform says: "In the contest which is to be made between monopoly and the privileged c'asses on the one hand and the taxpayers on the other, involving, as does, a fair price to the consumer of what he eats and wears, of the very fuel that protects his family from the frosts of winter, involving, also, the continuance of a system of taxation that reduces the value of a day's wages one-third by increasing the price of that which the necessities of the consumer compels him to buy, whilst disclaiming any sistance and co-operation of all laborers, whether in the field, factory or elsewhere,

A committee of five was to be appointed by the chair to wait upon the Legislature at the next session and urge the adoption of such legislation as will carry out the principles formulated in the platform.

Gov. Lee appeared and made a brief address, saying that he will at all times be ready to recommend to the State Legislature any measurers which he thinks calculated to benefit the agriculturists. He predicted a bright future for the South, in which millions of dollars of Northern capital have recently been invested.

A bill to further the objects of agriculture was perfected and will be reported to the Legislature for passage at its next session. A resolution was tabled pledging the mem bers to pay taxes in money. The Assembly will adjourn to day to meet the third Tuesday in November.
